Pauline Muth was a middle school Science teacher at Scotia-Glenville for 31 years. She was a teacher who insisted that you learned and was always available to help you to that end. She showed a deep care for her students both in regard to learning and their future. She was always willing to go out of her way to help a student rise to the level of their interest and willingness. After retirement she went on to become a renowned figure in the Bonsai world. She always held herself to the same high standards that she held her students to. This award is given in her memory and her spirit of interest in learning in the science fields.
